Clinical Scientists

- Development and/or application of creative advances in medical care
- External funding encouraged but not required
- Significant scholarly activity resulting in substantial contributions in the field
- Development of a high quality clinical practice
- Excellence in teaching
- Peer recognition at regional or national level for associate professor; peer recognition at national level for professor
Annual, Mid-Probationary, and Tenure Reviews

During the annual review, faculty and head should discuss unit expectations and review the criteria for promotion.

Tenure-track junior faculty will also have a formal mid-probationary review in Year 3 of their probationary period.

Tenure track assistant professors go up for tenure review in Year 6; packet preparation begins in spring of Year 5.

Faculty are evaluated under the norms in place at the time of hire, unless they choose to be evaluated under more recently adopted norms.

Going up early for promotion is permitted but risky as you are expected to not only meet but exceed the criteria. Early promotions are often turned down.

Advice for Tenure Track Faculty

Tenure Probationary Issues

Timing - Pay careful attention to what year of the "tenure clock" you are in.

Track switching - If your activities are not building towards a successful case for tenure, consider requesting a track switch before the end of Year 4.

Rollbacks - If you find yourself in a situation that is impeding your progress and may merit a rollback, look into it right away.

Your CV should be clear, well-organized, and up-to-date.

Scholarship

- Number and quality of first or senior author publications since joining UIC will be scrutinized.
- Focus on high impact peer-reviewed articles.
- Strive to develop a theme to your scholarship.
- Evidence of independence from your department head or former mentors will be sought when you go up for review.
Teaching Evaluations

- Discuss with your department the mechanisms for collecting student evaluations for your teaching.

- Consider additional ways of obtaining student evaluations from clinical teaching, instruction in the lab setting, or external seminars.

- Ask your head to assign and retain peer appraisals of your instructional activities.
Keep track of your teaching effort, including names of trainees and hours per activity.

Clinical Service

◦ Take time to document excellence in clinical service.

◦ Keep record of your patient load, referral base, and any other aspects to your clinical activities that may be unique to your role as a clinician.

◦ Maintain a file of patient testimonials and/or evaluations from external sources such as referring physicians.
All College of Medicine faculty, regardless of track or rank, are expected to demonstrate a commitment to Diversity, Equity and Inclusion.

As part of the promotion process, candidates must include a personal statement on their philosophy, commitment, and work to promote diversity, equity, and inclusion at UIC. This is an opportunity for faculty to be recognized for their broad engagement in these important activities.

Note: The DEI statement is optional for those hired before August 16, 2021.
